Automated Notification of Caregiver Arrival & Departure

At Right at Home, we believe Peace of Mind is priceless when caring for an elderly or disabled client in their own home. That's why we offer our state-of-the-art Telephony technology, which monitors when every employee arrives and departs a client's shift, at no additional charge to the client.

How It Works

Caregivers dial a toll-free number from the client's phone when they arrive/depart.

The call is electronically transmitted to our computer system and the schedule is verified.

If an arrival/departure call is not received on time, a member of our staff is immediately notified.

How Telephony Benefits our Clients

Free There is no additional charge to Right at Home Clients.

Trust Our caregivers know their punctuality is monitored to the minute.

Reliability Immediate notification to our staffing coordinators and clients when a caregiver has not arrived timely - 24-hours a day.

Responsiveness The electronic time-and-attendance function is ideal for clients who are unable to sign paper timesheets.

Peace of Mind No more wondering if a client has care. Automated confirmation is received within minutes of arrival.
